PETER HEARD

18 MAY – 2 JUNE 2019

The Directors of John Noott Galleries invite you and your friends to meet the artist at the opening of this exhibition on Saturday 18th May. Champagne will be served between 12 and 3pm.

Born in 1939, Peter Heard began painting in the 1970's. He achieved international recognition for his detailed, sophisticated work – often wittily observed, quintessentially English portraits – exhibiting with Beryl Cook and Martin Leman at London's Portal Gallery where he had five sell-out shows. More recently he has produced his famous collection of lighthouse paintings and depictions of English country living, together with the occasional snapshot into the life of Pennsylvania's Amish community. Peter is also inspired by the super-fast cars of the early to mid part of the last century, as superbly depicted in Eldorado and American Dream. We do hope you will come along to the opening reception on 18th May to view this fabulous new collection of Peter's work and meet the talent behind the brush.

Amanda Noott

The late, wonderful Sandy Denny, of Fairport Convention, wrote and sang a great song called "Who knows where the time goes?"

This will be my seventh solo show with John Noott Galleries, a happy partnership; and the fifteenth of my painting career.

I am eighty this year, so goodness knows where the time has gone!

In this time, I have never thrown a brush away, always used the best sable and at the last count I have 1,750 worn-out old friends – a few hours there then!

Luckily we artists, musicians, actors etcetera, never stop working until we finally keel over. Creativity in all its forms brings a balance of joy, peace and serenity in our troubled world and it is good to be a part of it.

This new show is a self-indulgent, eclectic mix of favourite themes – lighthouses, houses, cars, skies, people and landscape.

I do wish I had a Cadillac Eldorado!

Enjoy the show.
